

ALGOMA WORKFORCE INVESTMENT CORPORATION

Labour market newsletter

Volume 216– November 10, 2016

Subscribe | to the AWiC Newsletter every Thursday to receive it directly.

Algoma News

Province to step into Essar Steel Algoma restructuring

11/09/16

Northern Ontario Business Magazine

Heritage Fund working on "major funding" to help the struggling steelmaker

Will the local steel industry get Trumped?

11/09/16

Soo Today

Experts say a promise to boost manufacturing jobs and infrastructure spending by president-elect Donald Trump could be beneficial for the steel industry

Public open house to confirm downtown strategy

11/09/16

Sault Star

Recent open houses to present the city's downtown strategy have reconfirmed that the planning department's plan has the support of the community.

Feast your eyes on this year's list of innovative Saultites

11/09/16

Soo Today

The innovation centre honoured companies and individuals for their innovative contributions to local science and technology sectors

Our Mayor's Vision for the City's Development

11/08/16

Sault Online

Mayor, Christian Provenzano, presented a report to city council last night concerning his "community development initiative."

There's something happening at the Bushplane Centre!

11/08/16

Sault Online

The Canadian Bushplane Heritage Centre and Science North are collaborating to bring a new visitor experience to Sault Ste. Marie. As a major tourist attraction and tourism driver for the North, Science North is interested in expanding its reach in Northern Ontario.

Canadian News

Donald Trump's win promises more uncertainty for the already murky outlook of Canada's economy

11/09/16

Financial Post

"Almost one in five Canadian jobs is dependent on trade with the United states," said James Moore, former industry minister in the Conservative government and now a senior business adviser at Dentons Canada.

'Job churn' and 'precarious work' don't have to be the new normal

11/08/16

Globe and Mail

Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and Finance Minister Bill Morneau have both recently told workers that they need to get used to "job churn" and "precarious work." They were referring to the increasing prevalence of short-term, non-permanent jobs in the Canadian labour market.

Alberta introduces two new business tax credits to grow, diversify economy

11/08/16

Financial Post

Alberta is proposing two new business tax credits to try to diversify the economy and create jobs.

The complete list of jobs that make it incredibly easy for Americans to move to Canada

11/07/16

QUARTZ

On the eve of Election Day in the US, anxiety is running high for many Americans about the prospect of a Donald Trump victory.

Succession for success

11/05/16

Northern Ontario Business

Todd Wilkinson is a third-generation owner of men's clothier Reg Wilkinson in Sudbury, and in its 68 years in business, he'll be the first to pass it along to someone who's not in the family.

Ontario Adds 25,400 Jobs in October

11/04/16

Ontario Newsroom

Employment in Ontario increased by 25,400 in October -- including gains in construction and wholesale and retail trade

Canada's job growth blows past expectations, but part-time jobs and weak exports cloud outlook

11/04/16

Financial Post

If there's a pattern developing in Canada's economy, it looks more patchwork than anything by design.

Machine Learning and the Future of Education

11/04/16

Forbes

The use of digital books and adaptive learning allows for a much more tailored and customizable learning experience, as teachers now have access to data on what exactly students are consuming, and how they're coping with the concepts they're trying to learn.

Few details on Ring of Fire road decision

11/02/16

Northern Ontario Business

Northern Development and Mines Minister Michael Gravelle dropped few hints as to when the province expects to roll out plans for a Ring of Fire road access corridor, saying only it will happen "soon."

Copyright © 2013 Algoma Workforce Investment Corporation, All rights reserved.

You are receiving this weekly mailing because you were interested in weekly news updates regarding labour market information posted in the news.

Our mailing address is:

Algoma Workforce Investment Corporation
672 Queen Street East
Sault Ste. Marie ON P6A 2A4